SOCIETY

WITH the thermometer registering summer heat it has been difficult for any one to be particularly interested in social affairs that "engage the attention of society," generally speaking. Whole rows of charitable festivals and plays and lectures and exhibits and fetes have entertained those "unwise enough to spend this month in town. Some of the functions that society has attended for "sweet charity's sake" have been at the big country places just outside of town and motor parties to attend them have proved an interesting diversion. There have been long hot afternoons when even society grew tired and uninteresting, and the whole truth of the matter is that the town was about socially dead so far as a big influx was concerned.

There has been a great influx of invitations for weddings that will shortly take place and a good many interesting engagements have been announced. The spring season, if Richmond is to have such a season, is officially ended, and the church wedding of next month will be all of interest left besides the various departures for country in whatever form one's desire may see fit. Some will motor through New England, while the wide, smooth roads and quaint little inns are quite English. One really expects hedges and one's tea at five. Again Canada, and especially around North Hatley, will draw a large contingent of Virginia people, and the mountains and seashore are always at hand and June is especially the season at both, and the resorts will be crowded to their utmost for the next few months.

House Party for June.
Miss Phoebe Satterfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin L. Satterfield, formerly of Richmond, but now of Germantown, Pa., will be hostess of a charming house party at Cape May, New Jersey, for the last week in June. Several Richmond girls have been included in the invitations and a good deal of entertaining will be done for Approaching Wedding.

Among the interesting events of next month will be the marriage of Miss Cecile M. Bosman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bosman, and Harry Campbell Valden, the ceremony to take place on Wednesday evening, June 14, at 6:30 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church, Augusta, Ga. Mr. Valden is a nephew of Mrs. Rosa Lee King, of this city. The bride-elect is a very pretty girl and the wedding will be a very notable event. Miss Mary Guy King, late of Richmond, last week for wedding of her cousin, remaining in that city until after the ceremony.

Other attendants of the bride will be Misses Florence Mounce, Cecile Smith, Hazel Grand and Bessie Fry. The groomsmen will be Daniel Halford, Frank Catmon, Mr. Tuttle, of Jacksonville; Van Holt Garrett and Frank Hill, of Kentucky. The best man will be Baudry Moore, of Savannah.

The bride will wear a beautiful gown of white marquisette, elaborately embroidered, and her maids will wear lingerie frocks, with pink ribbons and broad white hats wreathed in pink flowers, and will carry armfuls of pink roses.

Open Country Places.
Just at this season of the year all over the State the big country places are being opened up preparatory for the house parties to be entertained next month, and a few guests are invited down for week-ends. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Atkinson have opened their handsome place, "Rocklands," near Gordonsville, where they will spend the summer with their family. Mrs. H. B. Ellington, of this city, also owns a country place near Gordonsville, and has established herself and family there for most of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brooke Gilpin have their country estate in Virginia, and "Kentmere," as the place is called, is one of the gayest places in Clarke county for the spring and summer months with a number of guests coming and going all the time. Mr. and Mrs. Gilpin are entertaining a house party for the week-end in honor of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Gilpin, and informal entertaining will amuse the guests for their several days' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. William Massie and Miss Ella Buck have gone to "Rice Hill," near Greenwood, and will entertain at their usual number of house parties during the next few months.

Visiting Near Baltimore.
Miss Mary Belme, of 915 Park Avenue, left yesterday to spend a week with Miss Katherine Hamilton Ober at "Tens-Kwan-Ta-Way," her home near Lutherville, Maryland. Miss Belme will probably join a party of friends in Canada for the summer season.

At the Woman's Club.
There will be a social meeting at the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon. These meetings will be continued every Monday afternoon until further notice.

Country Club Functions.
Several very pretty little dinners have been given at the Country Club of Virginia this week. Miss Mary Chalmers was hostess at a candlelight dinner on Thursday evening. Covers were laid for twelve guests, who included members of the younger set, and the table was set on the terrace of the clubhouse. American Beauty roses were used as table decorations.

Mrs. J. C. Miller also entertained at dinner at the club this week. Mr. Miller's dinner was given on Friday evening, and ten guests were present. Yellow and white flowers decorated the table.

Interesting Wedding.
The Washington Post of Friday contains the following account of a wedding near Washington of much interest to society here, Miss Margaretta Brooke, one of the attendants, having several times visited friends in Richmond.

"The marriage of Miss Dorothy Langstaff, daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel William C. Langstaff, U. S. A., and Mrs. Langstaff, and Lieutenant Francis Bowditch Wilby, U. S. A., was solemnized yesterday afternoon at Bellevue, Georgetown, the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony took place at 5:30 o'clock, on the south lawn of one of the oldest homes in the part of the country, and beneath a venerable oak tree. A scarlet carpet marked the path for the bridal party down the steps of the colonial porch, and across the lawn to the tree, beneath which they grouped themselves against a lattice, covered with scarlet and white flowers.

The ushers, four fellow-officers of the bridegroom in the engineer corps—Lieutenant Alexander, Lieutenant Downing, Lieutenant Hall and Lieutenant Godfrey—wearing their summer uniforms of white duck, led the way. Four bridesmaids—Miss Margaret Wilby, of Detroit, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Eugenia Havard, of Connecticut; Miss Margaretta Brooke, of Washington, and Miss Claire Wilcox, of Portland, Ore.—wearing white lingerie dresses with white garden hats, and carrying shower bouquets of white sweetpeas and pink roses, followed. Mrs. Richard Moore, of Orange, of the winter, as matron of honor, preceded the bride. Mrs. Moore wore her wedding gown of white satin and lace, and a large white hat, trimmed with white plumes. The bride wore a gown of white lace over white satin, and a little veil with a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley and Bride roses. She also wore a necklace of seed pearls, that had belonged to her great-grandmother. She walked with her father, who gave her in marriage, and, who, like the bridegroom, was his best man. Lieutenant Sulist, U. S. A., wore his summer uniform of white duck.

"The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James H. W. Blake, pastor of Christ Church, Georgetown. At its conclusion there was a large reception, with additional guests.

Mrs. Langstaff, mother of the bride, wore a becoming gown of white lace. Mrs. Barden, wife of Major Barden, commandant of the Washington barracks, Mrs. William D. Connor, wife of Major Connor, Mrs. William L. Marshall, Mrs. Judson, Mrs. Edward Brooke, Mrs. Mark Brooke and Mrs. Wilcox assisted in doing the honors of the house. The tables were decorated, one in white flowers, in compliment of the bride, and the other in red flowers, in recognition of the engineer corps, to which both the bridegroom and the bride's father belong."

An exhibition of Miss Alice Shille's pictures at the Art Club has been the principal event for the past week in art circles of Richmond. The exhibition will be continued through this week, and on Tuesday, instead of the usual affair at the club on that afternoon, a concert will be given on the same evening at 8:15 o'clock. The club rooms will be prettily decorated for the occasion in big jars of yellow daisies and white flowers, and the usual reception committee of the Art Club will receive the guests.

Those taking part in the concert will be Mrs. Frank W. Duke, who will play several selections on the violin; Mrs. A. B. Gulson, Miss Ruth Trautman and Mrs. Hutchon. A quartet will also render several numbers on the very pleasing program that has been arranged for the evening.

Patronesses for Moonlight.
The patronesses for the moonlight excursion to Dutch Gap on the evening of June 8 are: Mesdames Samuel W. Williams, Walter Christian; Thomas Hooock, Charles Massie, T. J. White, W. W. Huntley, N. V. Randolph, B. A. Brown, D. T. Williams, Sidney D. Johnston, Robert Sydnor, Gordon Wright, A. A. Blenner, Edgar Taylor, Hugh Miller, Watson Phillips, H. L. Lorraine, S. G. Meredith, B. C. Elliott, J. G. Corley and Miss Bettie Elyson.

Song Recital.
The pupils of Mrs. Thomas gave a charming song recital at her studio on yesterday evening at half-past 8 o'clock. The music rooms were decorated in howls of yellow flowers, and a brilliant program was rendered.

Those taking part in the recital were Misses Walker, Montgomery, Williams, Chesterman, Fitzwillson, Miller, Chevening, Bennett, Simpson, Thelmer, Leavitt, King and Sore; Mr. and Mrs. Strehl, Archibald Brown and Mr. Betts.

Miss Lambert Honored.
The Atlanta Journal of Wednesday contains an account of another function given in honor of Miss Lambert, whose wedding takes place next month. Miss Lambert has been one of the most feted brides-elect in Atlanta, and some very handsome entertainings have been done in her honor.

"A pretty party of this afternoon was the bridge at which Miss Grace Calaway entertained at her home on Piedmont Avenue, in honor of Miss Martha Lambert, whose marriage to Benjamin Blount Weaver will take place June 1.

"The house was artistically decorated with vases of daisies, nasturtiums and ferns.

"The score cards were girls' heads and the three prizes were silk stockings.

"Miss Lambert was attractive in a pling marquisette gown embroidered and trimmed with lace, and wore with it a black hat trimmed with pink.

"Invited to meet the guest of honor were eighteen friends."

Staying This Week.
Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Coleman Brown will leave town Tuesday for New York and will sail for England on Wednesday, May 31, on board the steamship Lusitania. Mrs. Brown expects to remain abroad until October, and Mr. Brown will join her later in the summer. They will visit places of interest in the Continent, and most of the summer will be spent in Southern France and Italy.

Annual Luncheon.
The Alumnae Association of the Woman's College will hold its annual luncheon at the Jefferson Hotel on Wednesday, May 31, at half-past 1 o'clock. Miss Mary Johnston will address the association, her subject being "Just Women." There will also be other interesting features, and a large number of former students are expected in Richmond to attend the luncheon. The committee in charge of arrangements wishes to announce that if any of the alumnae of the college or associate members of the association have failed to receive a notification card, they will be glad to have them hand in their names before Tuesday of this week, an imperfect mailing list having made many mistakes possible.

Guest of Mrs. Pace.
Miss Corinne Eaglesfield, of Indianapolis, Ind., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Pace, on Grove Avenue. Miss Eaglesfield spent some time in Richmond earlier in the spring and has since been visiting friends at Sweet Briar College, where she was much entertained. She will remain in the city for several weeks, going later to Baltimore for a short stay before returning to her home.

Rev. and Mrs. Julian Marcellus Luck, of Crozet, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Wilma Yancy, to William Edward Cunningham, of Meherin. The wedding will be celebrated June 22 in the Baptist Church at Crozet.

C., left last week for Jacksonville, Fla., where she went to represent the Home Mission Board and to deliver an address before the Southern Baptist Convention. Miss Burch will be the guest of friends in Jacksonville during her stay in that city.
